Our Stories...

The Michigan Public Schools Partnership (MPSP) began as a way to unite the education community and excite the public about the amazing things happening in Michigan's Public Schools.

Representatives from various education groups and school districts first met in the Fall of 2012 to discuss the successes happening in their districts and how to share that information with the communities, media, and the general public.

The coalition sprung into action gathering information and creating ways to disseminate the data, resources, and news to parents, other educators, and the media.

The MPSP website, www.standingstrongforpublicschools.org, launched November 18, 2013 and has since grown to house a wealth of news stories highlighting accomplishments and successes of students across Michigan

"Teachers are able to make really good decisions in their classrooms, and as a result can teach in a smarter and more focused way. What I see happening is giving students the best result in the amount of time teachers have with them." - Roger Coates

"Having an initiative selected as the 'Best of the Best' is a significant honor and reflects positively on all of our partners who have worked so hard to ensure that we are offering the highest quality professional development to all of our stakeholders," Chris Wigent, Wayne RESA Superintendent

"In the past six years, Owosso has taken two first place wins, one second place, and one third place win. I am so proud of the hard-working Owosso snow carvers!" - Mrs. Lamenti

"The exam is extremely difficult and requires a high degree of understanding of trigonometry. It is extremely difficult to place in the top three places in the State. It is extremely rare to have the top two finishers from the same area." - Bo Winkler, regarding the TrigStar exam

"The Howell Chamber of Commerce and the Livingston County Convention & Visitors Bureau welcomed us with open arms. Within weeks of placing our initial phone call, we met and they agreed to become a community partner." - Jennifer Trackwell, regarding LESA's Adult Transition Services Program's partnership with the Convention & Visitors Bureau
